

Georgia ACI “Working Man” Scholarship – Requirements and Instructions

The Georgia Chapter of the American Concrete Institute (ACI) will award one $2,500 scholarship to a local full-time employee who wishes to further their education by attending school part-time.

Qualification: Undergraduate or Graduate students attending school part-time in Georgia while working full-time in the concrete industry. At the time of application, the applicant shall have been accepted to an accredited college or university and pursuing a degree in engineering, architecture, construction management, material science, or other relevant degree. The applicant must be attending school to advance their career within the concrete and construction industry.

Please include the following with this application:

1. Application Form

Complete the attached application. Sign and date the application.

2. Resume:

Indicating academic achievements, professional activities, and work experience.

3. Essay:

Briefly relate your interest, experience and education in concrete technology, materials, design, or construction. What reasons do you believe support and justify your application for this award? How will continuing your education help you advance your career in the industry? What is your plan for continuing your education including any educational goals you have established? (Limit 500 Words).

4. Letter of Recommendation:

Obtain two letters of recommendation from engineers, faculty or other professionals who are not related to you and are familiar with your interest in this area. Letter of recommendation should attest to the applicant’s character, leadership capacity, and career interest.

5. College academic transcripts (if applicable)

Submit an official copy of the applicant’s transcript attached to the application. The registrar of the university must issue the transcript. Unofficial transcripts and/or web pages of transcripts will not be acceptable.
